- System anomaly logs.

When conducting risk identification, security checks, or manual reviews, the Platform will adhere to the principles of lawfulness, legitimacy, necessity, and minimum impact, and will not arbitrarily expand the purposes, scope, or retention periods for processing personal information or business data as a result of such reviews. Where manual review is involved, the Platform will impose access controls, confidentiality requirements, and necessary security management measures on review personnel.

The Platform will not alter the commitments regarding personal information protection and data processing set forth in the Privacy Policy merely because it conducts necessary security reviews.

If the Platform finds that a user has engaged in unlawful or noncompliant conduct or has violated these Rules, the Platform has the right to take corresponding measures based on the severity of the violation, including but not limited to:

(I) Issue a rectification notice;

(2) Delete relevant content;

(3) Restrict certain functions;

(4) Suspend model calls;

(5) Suspend API services;

(6) Restrict top-ups or consumption;

(7) Freeze the account;

(8) Terminate services;

(9) Cancel the account;

(10) Report to the relevant competent authorities or cooperate with investigations in accordance with the law.

When taking any of the foregoing measures, the Platform will comprehensively consider the nature and duration of the violation, the scope of its impact, the degree of subjective fault, and the status of rectification.

Except where notification is prohibited by laws or regulations, emergency action is required, or notification may impede an investigation, the Platform will, in light of the actual circumstances, explain to the User the measures taken and the principal reasons therefor. If the User objects to measures such as function restrictions, suspension of calls, account freezing, service termination, or account cancellation, the User may submit explanations and supporting materials through the appeal channels published by the Platform. The Platform will establish convenient and effective channels for appeals, complaints, and reports in accordance with the law, publish the handling procedures and response timeframes, and promptly process and respond after verification.

Chapter 8 Disclaimer Regarding Model Outputs

The Platform provides access to and call services for artificial intelligence models, and Model-Generated Content is primarily generated automatically by the relevant model based on User Input.

You understand and agree that:

(1) Model Outputs do not represent the views, positions, or opinions of the Platform;

(2) The Platform will take reasonable measures, based on applicable laws and regulations and the characteristics of the Services, to improve the security, accuracy, reliability, and transparency of Generated Content. However, due to limitations arising from technical principles, Training Data, model capabilities, timeliness, and other factors, Model Outputs may still contain errors, omissions, biases, or risks of unlawful or harmful content;

(3) Model-Generated Content may contain factual errors, logical errors, inaccurate citations, outdated information, or other inaccuracies, and you shall independently assess and verify such content in light of the actual circumstances;

(4) In professional fields such as healthcare, law, finance, investment, taxation, engineering, and safety, the User shall not rely solely on Model Outputs to make decisions that materially affect personal safety, property, or significant rights and interests;

(5) Where the limitations of a model have been reasonably disclosed and are identifiable by the User, the User shall, in accordance with the law, bear responsibility commensurate with the User's conduct for decisions independently made by the User and the corresponding consequences;

(6) Where impacts arise from abnormalities, model adjustments, service discontinuation, or content restrictions of a third-party model system that are not attributable to the Platform, the Platform will, within a reasonable scope, take such necessary remedial measures as notification, switching, suspension, or refunds, and will bear the corresponding responsibilities in accordance with applicable law and the agreement between the parties.

Nothing in this Chapter excludes or limits the Platform's statutory obligations concerning network and information security, Personal Information protection, consumer rights protection, labeling of generated or synthetic content, or any other matters.

If you discover that any Model Output contains unlawful or non-compliant content, manifest errors, or other circumstances that may affect the public interest, you may provide feedback through the channels made available by the Platform, and we will review and address the matter within a reasonable scope.

Chapter 9 Intellectual Property Rights

(1) Platform Intellectual Property Rights

All intellectual property rights in the Platform's trademarks, names, domain names, webpages, software programs, interface documentation, development tools, technical solutions, system architecture, databases, page designs, graphic identifiers, written content, and other related materials are owned by the Platform or by third parties lawfully entitled thereto.

Without the prior written permission of the Platform or the relevant right holder, no entity or individual may use the foregoing content by means of reproduction, modification, distribution, reverse engineering, leasing, sale, public display, dissemination through information networks, or otherwise, except as otherwise provided by laws or regulations.

(2) User Input

Users shall, in accordance with the law, retain the corresponding rights in Input Content, uploaded files, and other data provided by them in which they lawfully hold rights.

The User shall ensure that content submitted to the Platform does not infringe the lawful rights and interests of any third party.

The User shall bear the corresponding responsibility for any intellectual property, Personal Information, trade secret, or other legal dispute arising from content uploaded, entered, or processed by the User. If the Platform suffers any loss as a result, the User shall bear liability for compensation in accordance with the law.

(3) AI-Generated Content

To the extent permitted by applicable law, the User may use AI Output Content that the User has lawfully generated and in which the User lawfully holds rights, in accordance with relevant laws and regulations and the service rules of the third-party model.

As the intellectual property rules governing AI-Generated Content may differ among countries, regions, and third-party model service providers, the User shall independently understand and comply with the corresponding laws and regulations and the service terms of the third-party model.

The Platform does not, merely by providing model call services, acquire intellectual property rights in User Input or AI Output Content, except as otherwise provided by laws or regulations or separately agreed by the parties.

The User's use of AI Output Content shall not infringe the lawful rights and interests of others, nor shall the User remove, alter, forge, or conceal any labeling of generated or synthetic content that has been added in accordance with the law. Whether an AI Output is eligible for copyright or other intellectual property protection shall be determined in accordance with applicable law, the specific creative process, and the facts of the individual case. The Platform does not warrant that any Output will necessarily give rise to intellectual property rights that are registrable, transferable, or exclusive.

Chapter 10 Platform Enforcement Measures

To safeguard Platform security, maintain normal operating order, and protect the lawful rights and interests of Users, if the Platform identifies any unlawful or non-compliant conduct, abnormal risk, or circumstance that may endanger Platform security, it may take one or more measures as appropriate to the specific circumstances, including but not limited to:

(1) Require supplementary identity verification or relevant explanations;

(2) Issue a risk notice or warning;

(3) Restrict the use of certain models, interfaces, or functions;

(4) Adjust the API call frequency, concurrency limit, or resource quota;

(5) Suspend or restrict top-ups, consumption, and withdrawals (if the relevant functions are made available in the future) during risk reviews, dispute resolution, or other processes conducted in accordance with the law;

(6) Suspend account login or API call privileges;

(7) Freeze the account;

(8) Terminate services and cancel the account;

(9) Delete unlawful or non-compliant content;

(10) Report to the competent authorities or cooperate with investigations in accordance with the law;

(11) Take any other necessary measures permitted by laws and regulations.

When taking any of the foregoing measures, the Platform will comprehensively consider the nature of the violation, the scope of its impact, its duration, the status of rectification, and the User's credit record, and will adhere to the principles of lawfulness, reasonableness, and necessity.

For temporary restrictions imposed for system security protection, emergency response, or the performance of statutory obligations, the Platform will promptly restore the relevant Services after the risk has been eliminated, where applicable.

When the Platform restricts, freezes, terminates, or cancels an account, the Account Balance, incurred consumption, and refund matters shall be handled in accordance with the Recharge Service Agreement and applicable laws and regulations. The Platform shall not confiscate all of the User's unconsumed Paid Balance solely because action has been taken against the account. Complimentary benefits, promotional quotas, or other benefits obtained by the User through unlawful or non-compliant conduct may be canceled or recovered in accordance with applicable rules.

If the User objects to any enforcement measure under this Chapter, the User may submit an appeal through the appeal channels published by the Platform. Except as otherwise provided by laws or regulations or where emergency security action is genuinely necessary, when taking any measure that materially affects the User's rights and interests, the Platform will explain the principal reasons and process the appeal within a reasonable period.

Chapter 11 Amendment, Termination, and Interpretation of these Rules

(1) Amendment of the Rules

The Platform may amend these Rules due to changes in laws and regulations, regulatory requirements, adjustments to third-party model service rules, business development, product upgrades, or other reasons.

For material amendments involving Users' significant rights and interests, the Platform will notify Users by means of a website announcement, in-platform notification, email, or other reasonable method.

Updated content shall take effect on the date specified in the announcement or notice. Where laws or regulations require the Platform to obtain the User's consent again, the Platform will obtain such consent in accordance with the law. A User who does not accept the updated content may cease using the relevant Services.

(2) Termination of the Rules

These Rules shall terminate accordingly upon the occurrence of any of the following circumstances:

(1) The User voluntarily cancels the account;

(2) The Platform terminates the provision of AI Services to the User in accordance with the law;

(3) The relevant product or Service ceases operation;

(4) Any other circumstance prescribed by laws or regulations.

Rights and obligations arising before the termination of these Rules shall not be affected by such termination.

(3) Interpretation of the Rules

Any matter not provided for in these Rules shall be governed by the User Agreement, Privacy Policy, Recharge Service Agreement, Third-Party Model Service Description, Data Security Commitment, and other relevant rules of the Platform.

If any provision of these Rules is deemed invalid or unenforceable due to changes in laws or regulations, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected.

Chapter 12 Supplementary Provisions

(1) Constituent Documents of the Agreement

These Rules form an important part of the User Agreement and, together with the User Agreement, Privacy Policy, Recharge Service Agreement, Third-Party Model Service Description, Data Security Commitment, and other Platform rules, constitute the complete legal documents governing the User's use of the Platform Services.

In the event of any conflict between these Rules and applicable laws or regulations, the provisions of such laws or regulations shall prevail.

(2) Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

The formation, effectiveness, performance, interpretation, and dispute resolution of these Rules shall be governed by the laws of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region.

Any dispute arising out of or in connection with these Rules shall first be resolved through amicable consultation between the parties. If such consultation fails, either party may commence legal proceedings before a court of competent jurisdiction in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region.
